

I want to make work that is honest and passionate in feeling and looks as though it has already been here for a long time. My hope is that it will help cultivate those states of lucidity in which the secrets of things can be revealed.